French minister for foreign affairs informed me personally that British government gave instructions to Japanese minister to talk accordance with Japanese government and foreign representatives in Japan about the conditions of peace in the light of general interest; however, he said that British government do not take the initiative on the subject.

10. It is confirmed that Russian government have decided to protest against whether she will be constant in her attempt and how far she would follow other powers in their joint action; while France is considered likely to be faithful, though at present she will get into great difficulty in so doing. I heard also from trustworthy sources that England does not intend to join with combined intervention but at the present moment I am unable to furnish you with any definite information about the attitude of Russian Government and on the other hand as it is stated that they are preparing for naval demonstration in the far east it is better on our part to take necessary precautions against eventualities about the defence of important naval stations like 对马.

28. Regarding your telegram about secret treaty between Russia and China so far I heard nothing alike to confirm it but it appears to be erroneous report of the fact that very long ago Russian Government on building Siberia railway asked without success Chinese Government for cession of a part of northern Manchuria. Recent sudden change in the attitude of German Government appear to have had strong influence on Russia causing her to be active in the scheme of intervention and the papers here are unanimously getting stronger in this tone against us even going so far to state that as long since Corea and Manchuria ought to become possession of Russia, she should check wanton encroachment of Japan in the same districts but so far as Russian Government is concerned they do not appear so positive considering on the one hand consequence of contemplated intervention while on the other hand being still unable to come therein to thorough understanding with other Powers. As to Germany although she has lately proposed and may make joint intervention it is doubted among diplomatic circle.

In view of the memorial presented by the Japanese Government, I have just telegraphed you are hereby instructed to ascertain the attitude of the Government to which you are accredited.
You will ascertain and report by telegraph what action they are going to take on the subject. I need not say that if you find them unwilling, you should do your utmost to draw them into our side. Tell them as your personal opinion that the alleged complaints of those three Powers can be remedied without injuring anyone, especially supposed injury of any if any, upon commercial interests can easily be remedied by amicable arrangements after ratification of Treaty of Peace, but if ratification be neglected by China who might be induced to do so under the present turn of affairs it will inevitably bring forth the renewal of vigorous war for which Japan will not be responsible

Mr. Kato

I had a most cordial interview with Minister for Foreign Affairs on April 13th. He very clearly stated that British Government had no intention of interfering. He used the words you must not be disturbed. He could not tell me anything concerning the received being confidential but he might say newspaper articles pretty accurately described what was going on. He wished the above information to be kept confidential, be was anxious to know the details of modifications introduced into commercial stipulations, as they were very interesting to British Government. Telegraph fully at once time. It was particular for this information.

Minten Saumaulajin - From Hayashi Macke - Tokio

Written statement of Mr. Hayashi Macke, Tokio.

"I am instructed to point out again and again that if the Japanese Government had corresponded to our friendly advice tendered to them on the 8th March, by our reserved and sincere discussion of the attainable conditions of peace, instead of replying by mere conventional phrases, much annoyance and trouble would have been spared to both parties."
of European countries, but when it became known that the advice was ignored, steps for an under standing with the European countries were commenced in March after full agreement had been reached with Russia and joint action was agreed upon. It was decided that the three powers would commonly act in Japan for securing their interests in Eastern Asia, this is directed to the first instance against the territorial changes. For the commissions are not yet fully known and it is necessary to prevent the isolation of China. The article become evident through their declaration in the official organs that they have no intention to take policy of obtaining, and that having fully recognized political and economic danger threatening Europe by the new-Asian arrangement, they have recognized that German government would be guilty of grave neglect of duty if they did not take their share in the totality of European interests in Eastern Asia. Democratic official organ adds that having noticed the danger which arose from

Sit. From your latest telegram I perceive you have not yet realized seriousness of the situation and the importance of the action contemplated by Germany. It is impossible for me to sound German government up to their instruction to Russian ambassador, because it would be injudicious and provoke discussion for which I am not prepared for want of your instruction. Germany's line of policy...

Received your telegram at 9 p.m. You can say to Minister for Foreign Affairs that the Japanese Government have learned with much satisfaction of the decision taken by the British Government at this juncture and you are hereby authorized to assure him of our high appreciation of their friendly attitude.

The slight modifications mentioned in my former telegram are the following:

1. Under the original draft the Japanese had right to hire warehouses in the interior of China for commercial pursuits without the payment of any taxes or the interference of Chinese officials but we agreed to strike out that part which relates to Chinese official interference.

2. Japanese was to be taken for all taxes in China in its face value but we agreed not to insist upon this privilege.
