Today about 4 p.m. meeting of Clemenceau, of Japan, and China having been closed, had prepared a temporary residence provided for him by the Japanese Government. On the way, a pistol attacked the sub-missed, aged 72, and fired a pistol at Mr. Schur, hitting him in the head. Mr. Schur died, and the bullet remained inside. Mr. Schur was helped into his residence and under treatment by a surgeon of his suite. He would be sure have arrived on the spot. On learning of untoward event Count Verdi and myself immediately called at Mr. Schur's residence for surgery. At the same time sending Japanese surgeon, because it was an emergency, being telegraphed for.

Be frank regarding this event not concealing the fact. Surgeon's opinion is that at present there is no danger to life. Telegraph government received this intelligence. Yester.

At the same time it seems Japan will make some efforts in the cause of public health to prevent the spread of the disease and to keep the national sentiment in proper channel as a means of preventing any possible lead to x for the blood of objectionable foreigners other than Chinese which may entail unpleasant consequences. Other papers speak in similar terms of the prevented Japan and Japanese Government from responsibility. Every good impression has been produced by the report that the government sent Kind messages of x to x and also by every kindness and consideration shown towards him by Japanese troops during your telephone service.

Mr. T. R. Baker,

At New York City, a English paper received news of attack upon Hirohito very quietly. Times leading article 20 August expresses Japan from responsibility for the conduct unrestrained and apparently isolated minister and says such crime might occur in any European capital under similar conditions. It is say Japan is very much to be pitied and sympathised at this lamentable incident consering that she has been long bitterly and successfully to earn reputation of a state adding that nobody will be avert enough to uphold her for the action of young fronts.

The paper of Count Kuroeby organizes its comment upon the attempt up to the present official peace paper states that the attempt shall not have great consequence upon the negotiation for peace. "No Base issue" say sympathy Japan acquire has been shaken by the unpleasable attempt against Japan and Japan has had a battle morally in respect of humanity. Japan is not yet truly civilized nation. Japanese do not know irresponsibility of hospitality as it is feared by the attempts against Russian crown Prince.

saying that Japan has shown desire side under the will not affect the attitude formerly taken by Russian Government. They are afraid, continuation of peace negotiations would be impeded and especially by a further advance of the war. Our conditions for peace would be increased to degree not acceptable for them resulting therefore great complication on the matter by extraordinary intervention of other powers. This concerns too most serious uniform change whether you
